

BAILEY ATTACKS HEARST IN SPEECH ON SENATE FLOOR

Calls Editor Hard Names and Invites Fight With Athurst,
Who Makes Protest.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Senator Bailey of Texas, delivering his "farewell address" in the Senate this afternoon, with a denunciation of the "initiative and referendum," blamed the newspapers for the "unrest" of the present day that prompted such legislation. Incidentally he attacked William R. Hearst, and had a sharp clash with Senator Ashurst of Arizona, who took exception to his remarks.

Senator Bailey, while speaking, picked up a magazine published by Mr. Hearst. "A moral pervert, a political degenerate, a physical coward!" shouted Senator Bailey, referring to Mr. Hearst.

Senator Ashurst of Arizona jumped to his feet.

"Sir, President, I would be false to my friends"—he began.

"I only want to reply to that, you can do so outside," interrupted Mr. Bailey, heatedly.

"Very well, I'll do so," retorted Mr. Ashurst, sitting down.

Mr. Bailey quoted one of the letters published by Mr. Hearst, purporting to have been written by Mr. Athurst from the Senate Feb. 20, 1900.

REFERS TO THE STANDARD OIL LETTERS.

"I did not even become a member of the Senate until March 4, 1901," said Mr. Bailey.

He declared Mr. Hearst had used "stolen letters" in an attempt to create the impression that the Standard Oil Company controlled legislation, while many of the letters used, he said, were in fact unrelated to any matters of legislation.

"I have become convinced," said Senator Bailey, "that the present great popular unrest has its beginning in what was intended as mere idle gossip."

Newspapers, he said, began publishing lists of "millionaire senators" apparently only because they wanted "something to write," and the demand for such material became instant.

Senator Hearst said if any one "wanted to organize a syndicate to buy him out," he would be very glad to have them offer less than half a million.

GOT TO CALLING THE SENATE MILLIONAIRE'S CLUB.

"And after the papers had gotten used to calling the Senate a 'millionaires' club,'" said "they began attacking individual Senators, demanding to know where they got the million, which they did not have."

Senator Bailey said he overheard a Washington man point out the Senate office building and say:

"That's where those old fellows fix up their jobs, drink their champagne and smoke their pipes."

"That's the kind of reputation the representatives of the American people are given, and usually with no better foundation," said Senator Bailey.

Senator Bailey said the initiative and referendum struck at the foundation of the Republic.

The proposal to change the form of government, he declared, was based on the principle that the Senate and Representatives of the Government were dishonest and could not be trusted.

"The curse of the time is we are appealing to ignorance and prejudice," he said. "We are teaching the rich that the poor are their natural enemy and teaching the poor that the rich are their natural oppressors."

"Let me give an end of this class up," he said. "Let us reestablish in the minds of the people the belief that the men they have trusted have not betrayed them."

Senator Bailey said that the cry to-day was that the new movement was "Let the people rule." He denounced that as false.

"There are the Southern States," he said. "There is not a Southern State that has adopted woman suffrage, and I hope they will not."

"I cannot understand how any woman wants to step down from the high pedestal upon which man has placed her to mingle in the squalor and debaucheries of politics. No, the Southern States believe only in that, and in the white man's rule, and I agree with them."

BURNING AND ITCHING

SOMETHING TERRIBLE TO ENDURE, MASSENA, N.Y., WOMAN FINDS RELIEF IN SAXO SALVE.

"When I was a child nine years of age, Salt Rheum broke out on my right arm, just above the elbow. I was doctor for my blood, but with little benefit. After I had the measles, the eruption spread all over my body, so my hair had to be cut. Our family physician prescribed, but to no purpose. Last May, I became decidedly worse, and the itching and burning was something terrible to endure. A friend asked me to try Saxo Salve, which I did, and I cannot begin to tell you what relief it has given me. It has helped me as nothing else has ever done and I am almost entirely cured. Any one who suffers from Salt Rheum should use Saxo Salve." Mrs. E. E. Keser, Massena, N.Y.

It was the penetrating, soothing and healing influence of Saxo Salve that brought such relief to Mrs. Keser, and if you have any form of skin trouble we ask you to try Saxo Salve or our offer to give back your money if it does not help you.

SULZER IS GUIDED BY HUGHES IN HIS STATE REFORMS

Says Many Things He Is Doing
Have Been Suggested by Former Governor.

ALBANY, Jan. 2.—Full investigation of every State department, prompt action if anything wrong is discovered, single headed commissions in every place possible and sharp reductions in expenses everywhere are Gov. Sulzer's intentions.

"I am acting on information received from Justice Hughes, former Governor of this State, and on his suggestions," said Gov. Sulzer in discussing his plans to-day.

Gov. Sulzer stated that he has consulted with Justice Charles E. Hughes in regard to proposed reforms.

"Many of the things I am doing," he added, "are at his suggestion."

"I am trying to do what he recommends for the best interests of all the people." The Governor added that he would not at present appoint the new Public Service Commission or make any other appointments, but that he had already decided on two of the three members of the Commission of Inquiry mentioned in his message and that if he could get Raymond Fosdick, the former Commissioner of Accounts in New York to act as Chief Investigator he would name the two other members of the commission at once.

Gov. Sulzer courts comment, he said, on his appointments and it is his determination to cut expenses anywhere from 10 to 20 per cent during his administration. He does not say that there has been any wrongdoing, but insisted that he was determined to know why the very great increase in cost of running the State has taken place in a few years. For the present he will let Superintendent Reel remain at the head of the Highway Department, but he has ordered Superintendent Peck of the Public Works Department and State Engineer to "keep out."

The Governor wants a magnificent road system to extend from New York to Buffalo via Albany, and means to make it that it is had.

His remodeled road department will be called "Cloud Roads Bureau," not Highway Department.

He sees no reason why there should be two Public Service Commissions costing twice as much as the Interstate Commerce Commission and doing far less work.

WOMAN AND MAN KILLED BY GAS FROM OPEN VALVE.

Bodies Are Found in Her Room,
With Gas Stove Turned On,
Accidentally, Police Think.

Mary Johnson, thirty-two years old, and a smooth-shaven, well dressed man of thirty-five, believed to be Mortimer L. Lazar, a travelling salesman, were found dead from illuminating gas, early to-day, in the woman's room on the top floor of No. 437 Seventh avenue.

The fumes were pouring from one burner of a gas stove and it is believed that in lighting it the woman turned on one burner she did not light. The body of a French poodle belonging to her was found near the stove.

The woman had occupied the room for several months. The name of Mortimer L. Lazar was found on a postal card in the man's pocket and the initials M. L. were on a match safe found on him. It is not known where he lived. He wore a ring containing a one-karat diamond.

Other tenants in the house said the couple came in at 2 o'clock this morning and seemed cheerful and the fact that only one burner of the stove was open led the police to report the case as one of accidental gas poisoning.

I have no pain, no cough, no night sweats, no heat fever. Since a child I have had a bad cold, and I have had trouble, which grew worse as I grew older. At the age of fourteen, the doctor said I must be buried alive, and was about to do it, but he could not. The weather was so bad. Consumption. Every winter I would be forced to have either street or parlor heat. The doctor said I must have the parlor heat. This plagued me for a long time.
